

Ghost Stories for Kids

Check out these spooky titles at the Ellsworth Public Library! The call numbers are in bold.

Dying to meet you by Kate Klise JF Kli

Children's book author I. B. Grumpy gets more than he bargained for when he rents a quiet place to write for the summer, in this story told mostly through letters.

The ghost of Nicholas Greebe by Tony Johnston E Joh

In Colonial Massachusetts the ghost of a recently buried farmer haunts his widow's house after a dog takes one of his bones on a long journey.

Ghosts in the house by Kazuno Kohara E Koh

Tired of living in a haunted house, a young witch captures, washes, and turns her pesky ghosts into curtains and a tablecloth.

Ivy and Bean and the ghost that had to go written by Annie Barrows ; illustrated by Sophie Blackall JF Bar

Second graders Ivy and Bean set out to expel the ghost who is living in the girls' bathroom at their school.

When Lord Cucuface, head of Madeline's school, takes a telescope from the attic during a surprise inspection, its ghostly owner convinces Madeline to help get it back, with help from neighbor Pepito and her fellow orphans.

Tacky goes to camp by Helen Lester E Les

Tacky the penguin and his friends go to Camp Whoopihaha where they scare each other by telling ghost stories around the campfire, never expecting that one of the frightening stories will come true.

You read to me, I'll read to you: very short scary tales to read together by Mary Ann Hoberman E Hob

Each short poem invites two readers to read their own parts, and then read the passage in the central column together, in a spooky collection filled with zombies, ghosts, and ghouls.
